

5

key benefits of using an LMS for employee training

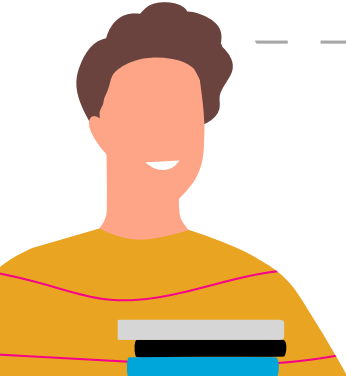

When it's time to onboard new hires and help longtime staff members, consider these five advantages of LMS for employee training:

1

A comprehensive LMS comes loaded with ready made courses.

Save time with pre-made courses on industry and compliance matters.

Custom training courses are easy to create and reuse.

2

effortlessly upload and launch new courses

repurpose and reissue courses

3

HR can develop and deploy curricula based on the job role.

Instead of manually choosing and assigning courses, an LMS can help HR develop training curricular and configure course paths.

Employees can learn at their own pace.

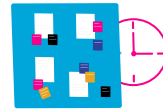

4

tackle compliance courses one by one set professional development goals

fit to their own schedules

5

Record-keeping capabilities help companies ensure compliance.

easily view progress metrics

track performance within the system.

Take your training to the next level with Learn & Grow, a powerful and engaging learning management system that's integrated with the HR and payroll platform.