Workforce Management Virtual Clock – Labor Flow Improvements

We have updated the Labor Flow to provide a more streamlined experience for users when making labor selections while using the virtual clock. We've updated the button that used to say "LABOR" to "TRANSFER" which allows employees to select the labor options and save the punch. Users will also no longer need to select "LABOR" when punching to override their labor selection. If the labor options are turned on, once employees selects "PUNCH IN" they will then have the option to select a In Labor Option.
