

Payroll Solutions for the Finance Industry

The finance and banking industry is one that has seen many changes over the past several years. Many financial institutions have expanded hours of operation, their employee population has grown to better serve customers and managing human capital has become more challenging. Financial organizations are no longer 9 to 5 operations. Because financial institutions have multiple locations, having a centralized system to manage labor is the key to future success.

GTM has developed the tools to assist the financial industry in managing these changes; properly staffing offices and providing managers with better tools for managing their human capital will add to the bottom line and increase customer satisfaction.

List of Challenges

- Managing employee schedules to ensure proper staffing levels
- Manual journal entries into accounting system
- Providing a self-service portal to boost staff morale
- Effectively managing the controllable labor cost, including overtime
