Payroll Solutions for the Government Industry

Modernizing inefficient processes is one of the key initiatives for a leaner and more efficient government. Many government agencies are now required to carefully measure the cost of its activities. With an efficient time and attendance / workforce management system, government workforce can eliminate redundancy, automate processes, increase productivity, and add to the bottom line.

GTM has helped many city, state, and government agencies streamline their workforce management and eliminate the error prone manual data collection processes.

List of Challenges

- Manual data collection of employee worked and non-worked hours
- Effectively managing overtime
- Manual journal entries into accounting system
- Managing employee schedules to assure proper staffing levels
- Employees do not have access to their worked and non-worked hours

What makes GTM different?
